Skin

The classic: ESPA

Taking natural skincare to the next level, Espa's founder, Susan Harmsworth, has revolutionised the industry over the past 20 years in terms of products, treatments and spas.

Rising star: SARAH CHAPMAN

Skin expert Chapman's products create the same radiance-enhancing, skin-plumping results as her bespoke facials, which Hollywood stars including Naomi Watts swear by.

Body

The classic: MOLTON BROWN

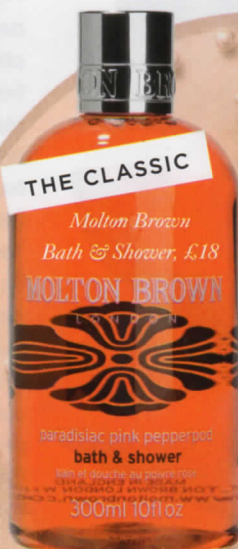

Marking its 40th anniversary this summer, Molton Brown has come a long way since opening as a single hair salon on South Molton Street in London. Renowned globally for its bath and shower washes and body lotion, the brand was awarded a Royal Warrant this year.

Rising star: ILA

With its energising body oil and exfoliating scrubs made from locally sourced Cotswolds ingredients, Ila is making its mark on the natural-beauty industry and putting the focus back on blissful at-home relaxation.

Hair

The classic: MASON PEARSON

Mason Pearson's bristle brushes are a veritable British institution as far as haircare is concerned. The brand's presence backstage at shows, on fashion-shoot sets and at home is unrivalled.

Rising star: PERCY & REED

Noticing a gap in the market catering for fine tresses, hair stylists Paul Percival and Adam Reed (the dynamic duo behind the brand Percy & Reed) are building a reputation with their lightweight, effective products. □
